IONIZED CALCIUM, SERUM DISCONTINUED

Effective immediately, we will be discontinuing Ionized Calcium, Serum testing due to low demand. We have observed that very few orders have been placed for this test over the past eighteen months.

What Remains Available

While we are discontinuing the Ionized Calcium, Serum test, please note that the routine Ionized Calcium test will continue to be available. This test provides valuable information and is widely used in clinical practice.

If you have any questions or need further clarification, please feel free to reach out to our team.
